

SCIENTISTS CHANGE THE WORLD

LINDA

BUCK

Linda B. Buck, an American biologist known for her work on the olfactory system, described how hundreds of genes code for the odorant sensors in our noses. She won the Nobel Prize in Physiology or Medicine in 2004 for her work, which has opened the doors to the genetic and molecular analysis of humans' sense of smell. Text Credit: Beyond Curie.

BIOLOGY

