Questions to the President
Faculty Council Meeting, November 11, 2019

Submitted by Professor Lorenzo Sadun (Mathematics)

The City of Austin has moved strongly towards separate collection of household food waste and soiled papers (e.g. paper plates and napkins) across the city for composting. Here at UT, however, the waste from all of our eateries seems to go straight into the trash. Are there any plans to introduce composting across campus? If not, can we consider it?
